

2026 Early Childhood Resource Guide

WHITE MOUNTAIN APACHE TRIBE

FIRST THINGS FIRST

DA GO TÉ

Strong families are the cornerstone of strong communities. The experiences our children have – starting at birth – affect everything from their physical well-being to their lifelong health and their ability to be productive and contributing members of our communities.

Families are their child's first and best teachers, so it is important that parents and caregivers have the information and support they need to make the best choices for themselves and their families. Every family is different and their needs will vary.

First Things First developed this guide as a resource to families on the programs, organizations and resources available in our area. In addition, the staff at the First Things First office (928.532.5041) are available to help families looking for programs specifically related to supporting the health and development of young children and families.

We hope this information will be useful as we work together to build a better future for our children, our families and our community!
